Refuses to Accede to Demands of U. S. Ultimatum Sent Him by John Lind

IGNORES NOTIFICATION

Lind Waits All Day for Answer to Message But Huerta Makes No Reply

NEW CONGRESS WILL CONVE

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 12.—General Victoriano Huerta tonight tacitly refused to accede to the demands of the United States expressed in an ultimatum sent to him by President Wilson's personal representative, John Lind. General Huerta was notified early in the day that unless he returned an answer by six o'clock this evening to the effect that he would prevent the newly elected congress from convening and furthermore make this action to the members of the diplomatic corps by midnight, the United States would have no further parleying with the Mexican government.

Mr. Lind waited until six o'clock and received no answer. He then made arrangements for his departure on the train leaving for Vera Cruz at 8 o'clock. It was announced, however, that General Huerta had one chance more—that if he took the action demanded by mid-night the fact that he failed to reply to Mr. Lind within the time specified would be overlooked. Mr. Lind could see no good reason to suppose that Huerta intended to accede.

Nelson O'Shaughnessy the charge, was the messenger who delivered the ultimatum. He was unable to get into personal touch with General Huerta but left the message at the president's office.

It was intimated tonight at the palace that General Huerta had not received the note in time to give it full consideration.

This, however, did not appear to Mr. Lind a valid excuse for procrastination.

The prevention of the convening of congress has been one essential point in the negotiations conducted by Mr. Lind, this for two reasons: It will be that the new congress would lose no time in passing measures having to do with the oil concessions and, second, because the convening of congress would give an air of legality to Huerta's government.

Confers With Carranza.

Nogales, Sonora, Mexico, Nov. 12.—Crossing a narrow street from the United States into Mexico today, William Bayard Hale, personal representative of President Wilson met the constitutional chief, General Venustiano Carranza and his cabinet and presented to them a definite proposal from the American government. What that proposal was, the American diplomatic agent declined to say. The Mexican revolutionary leaders also were anxiously waiting the development of the American policy with regard to Mexico it was fraught with possibilities for the destinies of the war-torn republic and her relations with her northern neighbor.

Into a little room off the tiny Auduna or custom house in which General Carranza has established his ad interim capital, the American emissary was ushered to meet the chiefs of the revolution against Huerta. Carranza and his entire cabinet were there and with them Mr. Hale conferred, exchanged views and impressions and consulted from noon until shadows grew long and enveloped the twin towns of Nogales, U. S. A. and Nogales, Republica de Mexico.

Both towns unanimously agreed that the conference was the most portentous event in their history. Their people frankly believed that it was making history, and that on its outcome depended not merely victory or defeat for a single political party of Mexico but possibly peace or war for the two countries and probably the salvation or destruction of a nation.

Will Issue Statement.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Secretary Bryan announced today that a statement would be issued within a few days setting forth the policy of the United States toward Mexico. Whether or not the statement will be in form of a communication to congress by President Wilson has not been disclosed but some of the diplomats here believe it will be. The statement had been under consideration for several days and in Secretary Bryan's conferences with members of the diplomatic corps he has made it plain that the forthcoming pronouncement would define clearly the attitude of the United States. Such a statement, it is thought, not only would reiterate the views that the United States never recognize a government established by arbitrary force but will give its reasons for refusing to recognize any acts of the new congress either as to the validity

LETTER TO PINDELL

ASSERTS DISCHARGED EMPLOYE IN VENTED AND SENT LETTER

Former Employee in Senator's Washington Office Who Previously Had Forged Lewis' Name to Checks and Had Been Discharged is Said to Have Been Author of Much Discussed Letters.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Senator Lewis tonight issued a statement explaining the much discussed letter from him to Henry M. Pindell, of Peoria, Ill., asserting that a discharged employee of his Washington office had invented the letter, attempting to quote some of the words from letters which the senator actually had written to the Illinois legislator.

Senator Lewis said that the appointment of Mr. Pindell being assured, it was "but fair for me to state that if the newspapers had published a letter that was misleading and misinforming insofar as it appeared to be either my statements or as coming from me, I am responsible for this and not the papers."

Concerning the correspondence with Mr. Pindell, Senator Lewis said: "The creation of these letters assumed to have been from me to Mr. Pindell as published, now develops to have been the result of collusion on the part of a former employee of my office in Washington who had previously forged my name to checks and had been discharged, but who had been protected by me from the penalty because of his family—and certain of his confederates. They seized these letters and sought to dispose of the same as being from me to Mr. Pindell, the stenographer having memory that letters of some kind on the subjects referred to had been dictated by me to Mr. Pindell. However, the language used and the phrasing in the invented letters were so foreign to anything ever used by me, that for three weeks throughout the county he had been unsuccessful in disposing of them."

"Later through co-operation of some enemies of Mr. Pindell (in Illinois as I am informed) who vouched that such letters had been seen either in the possession of Mr. Pindell or had been spoken of by him as having been received, was this faithless employee able to impose upon reputable newspapers."

WRECKS ALL ALONG SHORE.

Calumet, Mich., Nov. 12.—The story of recent storm on the lakes has been told, was the declaration of Captain John Doherty, of the Anchor line steamer Tonia, which arrived at Houghton today. He says he sighted wrecks all along the shore from the Soo up to Houghton. Captain Thomas Paddington of the steamer Turret Chief which lies high up in a reef six miles east of Copper Harbor, Copper Harbor Point, will return to the scene of the wreck tomorrow to ascertain the damages and report to the owners of the craft the Merchants' Mutual line of Toronto.

The wreck is so high up on the reef that it is necessary for the crew to use ropes and ladders to escape. The craft is out of water and it is believed that it cannot be removed this fall because of the dangerous coast and heavy fall seas. Left on the reef all winter there is the probability she would be pounded to pieces.

It was the intention of Captain J. D. Duddleton, master of the steamer Waldo, wrecked on Manitou Island, to return to the wreck today in the hope of finding her in a condition to be saved but gave up that hope and abandoned the boat to underwriters.

Captains Tell of Gale.

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 12.—Tales of the storm that swept the lower lakes the past few days are told by vessel captains arriving here today. Boats coming are covered with ice and are damaged.

Captain Warren C. Jones of the steamer Sylvania tells a most graphic story of the storm.

"We left White Fish Point at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon," Captain Jones said, "and within an hour were right in the midst of the storm. Waves twice as high as our boat dashed over us, while the wind and snow blew with such violence that it was impossible to get out on deck. No sooner had the storm started than our boat was spun completely around. I was compelled to back the boat to keep off the rocks. But the wind drove us forward and that experience, waiting for the final crash, will never be forgotten by myself or the crew of thirty men, two women and several children. When I realized that a crash was imminent I threw out the anchor and thank God it took hold in 200 feet. In twenty-four hours we made forty miles."

Captain T. J. Cullen, of the steamer Edenhorn, also went through the storm. He said that in twenty-two years of service he had never seen the like. Only by dragging his anchors and backing against the storm did he weather the blow.

No More Wrecks Reported.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 12.—No more wrecks or vessels in distress were reported today from points on Lake St. Clair and along the Detroit river.

A number of hunters believed to have been on these waters in open boats when the blizzard swept Michigan Sunday are still missing. H. R.

GALE HINDERS WORK OF IDENTIFICATION

BODIES WASHED ASHORE ARE IDENTIFIED AS MEMBERS OF REGINA CREW

Diver is Not Permitted to Climb Down Freighter's Bow to Ascertain Her Name—Arriving Captains Tell Their Stories of the Storm.

PORT HURON, Mich., Nov. 12.—After working desperately since this morning in an unsuccessful attempt to positively identify the derelict freighter which lies bottom-side up in stormy Lake Huron, eight miles northeast of here, marine men returned to Port Huron tonight. Most of them said they were convinced that the boat is the Canadian Pacific freighter Regina.

The Regina's beam is 43 feet. Captain Plough of the Lakeview Life Saving station measured the overturned boat and said her beam was slightly more than 42 feet. The wreckage from the Regina washed ashore yesterday, including a life boat which contained two bodies of sailors positively identified as members of the crew of the Regina. Indicated that the freighter was wrecked in the vicinity where the overturned vessel was found. Little credence is given here to the report from Goderich, Ont., that the seven bodies found on the shore of Lake Huron below Grand Bend, were sailors on the steamer Charles S. Price, reported lost. The Price may have sunk, marine men admit, but it is believed the bodies were of members of the crew of the Regina. They were found not a great distance from where the Regina victims found in a row boat, were washed ashore. It was also learned that one of the sailors whose clothes contained a letter addressed "care steamer Charles F. Price," formerly worked on the Price but later joined the Regina crew. When the relief fleet steamed out to the floating wreck this morning, a diver was taken along. A gale was blowing across Lake Huron and waves were dashing ten feet over the derelict ship but the diver urged the captain to allow him to attempt to climb down side of the vessel's bow to ascertain her name. The men in command considered the plan foolhardy and refused to allow the diver to leave the tug. They promised to give him a chance tomorrow providing the lake is not so rough. A report this afternoon from Port Frank, Ont., stated that eight more frozen bodies were washed ashore in a life-boat there today. Wires are down and the identity of the life-boat could not be learned.

THE CAUCUS METHOD

Give Up Attempt to Force Currency Bill Through Senate by Way of Democratic Caucus

Full Committee Will Meet Today and Another Attempt Will Be Made to Secure an Agreement Among a Majority

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The attempt to force the administration currency bill through the senate by way of the Democratic caucus was today abandoned and the banking and currency committee of the senate was given time for further consideration of the bill. A practical agreement by six Democratic senators half of the committee and hope for a final report within five or six days was reported to the Democratic conference today by Senator Owen and at his request the conference took no action. Since the call for the conference was issued, Senators Reed and O'Gorman had joined Chairman Owen and Senators Pomerehne, Shafroth and Hollis in support of the administration measure despite their votes against some of its provisions in the committee. These Democrats have virtually agreed on a bill which meets the views of President Wilson.

This measure will be taken before the senate as soon as possible. A further attempt to swing Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska in line with his Democratic colleagues was made in a meeting of Democrats of the committee after the conference but Senator Hitchcock insisted that he could not reconcile his views with the demands of the president.

Full committee meets.

Democrats and Republicans will meet and another attempt will be made to secure an agreement among a majority. If this fails it is probable that the Democrats and Republicans will make a unanimous report on those details of the bill which all approve and then submit supplementary reports showing the senate their disagreement on the fundamentals of the bill. The Republicans and Senator Hitchcock have announced their determination to stand out to the last for the public ownership of the regional banks in the new system and for government control of those banks. Today's conference was in session but half an hour. Senator Owen made a statement of the situation in the committee and said that six of the seven Democrats were in practical agreement. He declared it to be his belief that five or six days more would give the committee time to frame a report. Without further discussion the conference agreed to adjourn subject to the call of the chairman.

Makes No Definite Reply.

Chairman Owen was asked by several senators whether he was convinced that currency legislation could not be put through the senate at this session of congress and whether an adjournment of congress might not well be taken. He made no definite reply but several senators took the position that so far as currency legislation before Dec. 1 was concerned, congress might just as well adjourn. There has been considerable pressure for an adjournment, if only for ten days or two weeks on both sides of the capitol, but it is understood that in view of the Mexican situation congress will be kept in Washington regardless of the currency legislation.

All of the Democratic members of the committee except Senator Hitchcock went into conference tonight and began work on the details of their report. They decided that the meeting of the committee called for tomorrow should be adjourned until Friday to give them time to complete their task. The Democrats expect to have the draft of their bill ready for submission to the full committee Friday and hope that all of the proposed reports from the committee may be sent to the senate on Tuesday.

MONEY SPENT ON CANAL MIGHT BETTER HAVE BEEN USED ON HIGHWAYS OF THIS COUNTRY

MANCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 12.—The Panama canal might have been used to better purpose on the highways of this country, Oliver Wilson, master of the National Grange told the delegates to the National convention of Patrons of Husbandry in his annual report today.

"The building of the Panama canal is a national project of which all Americans are proud, yet the same amount of labor and money spent on our highways at home would create benefits nearer and probably more important to our own people," he said.

Mr. Wilson declared that federal government almost ignored the question of transportation, the farm and the business center, except to give advice on road construction.

Mr. Wilson also submitted ideas from the view point of the farmer regarding rural credits saying: "I believe any rural credit system should make it easy and safe for a farmer to borrow money to buy or improve his land or equipment to operate the same."

"Long time credit at the lowest possible interest should be available for the farmer who desires it. The so-called rural credit commission that was sent to Europe had but very few representatives from the rural districts therefore we can expect very little benefit from it."

"I am opposed to any rural credit system or any other system of finance that separates farmers from other business men. All that we ask for the farmer is equal opportunity with all other business men."

Enumerates Causes of White Slavery

CLIFFORD J. ROE ADDRESSES INTERNATIONAL PURITY CONGRESS

Chicago Man Declares Neglect by Parents in Bringing up Their Daughters is Big Factor in the Making of White Slaves—Urges Absolute Elimination of the Vice Districts.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 12.—A department of recreation to combat the evil influences of the dance halls, in all cities; federal laws governing divorces and marriages of an interstate nature, a congress of newspaper men to discuss methods of governing the dissemination of news relative to the white slave traffic, were among the recommendations offered by Clifford J. Roe of Chicago, in an address before the International Purity congress, which closed here tonight. Mr. Roe is the president of the American Bureau of Moral Education and was appointed as a delegate to the congress by Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan by authority of a joint resolution of the federal congress.

The subject of Mr. Roe's address was "white slavery and the best methods of dealing with the evil."

"Neglect by the parents in bringing up their daughters is a big factor in the making of white slaves," he declared. "Mothers are often too busy attending clubs, theaters and card parties to find time to spend upon their children. Fathers have a keener interest in their properties than they have for the welfare of their daughters. They let their children grow up like the weeds in the prairie to care for and look after themselves."

Causes of White Slavery.

"Girls who are brought up under such influences are easy prey for the white slave procurers."

Among the causes of white slavery were enumerated as follows:

"Ignorance on the part of the public, the parents and the children."

"Double standard of morals."

"Hasty marriages and divorces."

"Love of fine clothes and suggestive fashions."

"The spirit of adventure and romance."

Discussing some of the economic causes he gave the following:

"The deferring of marriage because men cannot afford to marry."

"Competition of girls and women who do not need to work and who help lower wages; wages are regulated by supply and demand."

"Employment of young girls who practically lose the home care and training of mothers."

The absolute elimination of the vice districts and a single standard of morality for men and women were urged.

Former Member of Illinois Legislature is Acquitted

William C. Blair is Found Not Guilty of the Charge of Bootlegging by East St. Louis Jury.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 12.—William C. Blair, a former member of the Illinois legislature, was acquitted in the federal district court at East St. Louis today of a charge of bootlegging. Three witnesses testified they had bought liquor from Blair at his law office in Mt. Vernon, Ill. Blair denied this testimony and said the only whiskey in his office was there for the entertainment of his friends without cost and that he had bought from one of the men who testified against him.

Fifteen character witnesses testified for Blair. Five of them had been convicted of bootlegging. The jury was out all night.

Will Ask Student Volunteers to Furnish Skin for Grafting

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 12.—President Potter of Shurtleff college, Piper Alton, Ill., was requested today to call for student volunteers to furnish skin for a grafting operation on George Lockebe, a 15-year-old boy. The boy was seriously burned three weeks ago when a powder bottle which he was carrying in his hip pocket exploded. His physician believes skin grafting alone can save the boy's life. The appeal for student volunteers probably will be made at chapel Thursday.

Predicts Nation Wide Prohibition Soon

KANSAS EXECUTIVE ADDRESSES AMERICAN ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

Governor Hodges' Prediction That Congress Will Soon Adopt an Amendment Prohibiting Traffic in Intoxicants in U. S. Throws Convention in Uproar of Applause.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 12.—Predicting that an amendment prohibiting the traffic in intoxicating beverages in the United States and all territories under its jurisdiction soon would be adopted by congress and declaring that if "I am governor of Kansas I will immediately convene the legislature in special session if necessary for the purpose of ratifying the amendment," Governor George H. Hodges of Kansas tonight threw the fifteenth biennial convention of the American Anti-Saloon League into an uproar of applause.

Governor L. B. Hanna, of North Dakota, another speaker, gave statistics to show the prosperity of his state under prohibition regulation and said the "brewers' years book" showed no consumption in his state of their manufacture in 1911. Governor Altna said, however, that some intoxicants were used in North Dakota, but that the consumption was so small that there was practically no profit for distillers or brewers.

Force at the convention were augmented today by the arrival of a delegation composed of 250 from Illinois with but one exception—that of Ohio—the Illinois delegation is the largest attending the convention. The day session was brought to a climax with a stirring address by former Governor M. R. Patterson of Tennessee, in which he gave reasons for his enlisting with the anti-saloon movement and reviewed his former life and activities, which, according to his statements had been with the forces opposed to suppression of the liquor traffic.

The program of the convention calls for three sessions tomorrow and concluding its work tomorrow night.

"In some states the throne of political power is in the saloon," Governor Hodges said in his address tonight. "Kansas people, he said, believe that 'the morality that guides us individually must guide as a state and nation.'"

"Prohibition has demonstrated," he continued, "that the most expensive revenue any state can collect is the saloon license."

With reference to federal aid in the anti-saloon movement and equal suffrage, Governor Hodges said: "The quickest road to effective prohibition is through congress. The time is opportune for federal prohibition and national-wide equal suffrage." He said he could give assurance that all Kansas congressmen would use their efforts for federal prohibition and universal suffrage.

Will Endorse Movement

Rev. Father J. J. Curran of Wilkes Barre, Pa., said in his address that the Catholic church, through individual expressions of its clergy eventually will give hearty endorsement of the anti-saloon league just as it has worked for personal abstinence in the past.

W. W. Bennett of Rockford, "The largest dry city in Illinois" and T. Alex. Carus of Newark, N. J., were also among today's speakers. This convention will tend to eliminate the hostility that has existed between the national prohibition party and the anti-saloon league, Rev. Josiah Levinger, Baltimore, former prohibition candidate for president declared today.

Petition Congress.

Resolutions read at tonight's session petitioned the United States congress "to so amend existing laws that no government permit for the sale of liquors shall be issued to any proposed dealer until such proposed dealer shall have received local authority for such sale and shall have filed with his application satisfactory proof of having received such local authority."

State Closes Case.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—The state today closed its case against C. P. Berthache and James Ryan, clairvoyant, charged with having swindled Mrs. Hope McDowdow of La-Crosse, Wis., out of $15,000.

Sparks From the Wires

FALL RIVER, Mass., Nov. 12.—Preliminary steps were taken tonight toward a demand for a general increase in wages for the 22,900 operatives in the one-hundred cotton mills of the city.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—A silver service will be the wedding gift from senators to Miss Jesse Wilson, according to an announcement today by Senator Martine, who is receiving voluntary subscriptions from his colleagues.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 12.—Gus Feitridge, the sixth victim of the fire which destroyed the home of D. W. Laster at Browning, yesterday, died today.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 13.—A fire started presumably by spontaneous combustion in a room adjoining the composing and editorial rooms of the Daily Bee created a small panic among half a hundred newspapermen early this morning. The damage was not great but it was some time before the composing and editorial rooms were habitable owing to the smoke.

Secretary Assails Mining Companies

Secretary of Labor Wilson Condemns Attitude of Michigan Copper Mining Companies

PROFIT SAID TO BE ENORMOUS

Wilson Asserts One Mining Corporation Has Made 200 Millions Net Profit On Investment of $1,250,000

HOPES TO AID ALL LABOR UNIONS

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 12.—Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson, addressing the American Federation of Labor today, bitterly condemned the attitude of the Michigan copper mining companies and warned them that a new conception of titles to property was in progress of formulation. Mr. Wilson, who addressed the delegates as "fellow unionists" said: "The department of labor as now organized and directed will be utilized to co-operate with the great trade union movement in its effort to elevate the standard of human society. 'One of the general duties imposed on the department under its organized law is the duty of promoting the welfare of wage workers. 'The one great specific duty imposed on the department is the duty to act as mediator in trade disputes, to appoint commissioners of conciliation in trades disputes. 'There can be no mediation; there can be no conciliation between employers and employe that does not pre-suppose collective bargaining and there cannot be collective bargaining that does not pre-suppose trade unionism.'"

The situation at Calumet the secretary said it had heretofore been the custom to investigate wages, hours and conditions of labor and report. This time he said it had been determined to go a step further and investigate the earnings of the corporations involved.

Reports Enormous Profits.

"And the little bit of coincidence that I am going to give you," he added, "is an advance statement of one of the items in that situation—that the largest corporation engaged in the production of copper in the Michigan district was organized in 1870 under the laws of the state of Michigan, that the face value of its capital stock is $2,500,000. The shares are $25 each. They were purchased at $12 each, so that the actual investment is about $1,250,000. From that time until one year ago, the last fiscal report that it had a period of 42 years, that corporation declared in dividends $121,000,000 on an investment of $1,250,000; and made re-investments out of its earnings of $75,000,000. Nearly $200,000,000 of actual net profits in a period of 42 years on an investment of $1,250,000, and then not only protest against meeting committees of their workmen but refuse to accept the good offices of the department of labor in negotiating the difficulty."

"They say their property is their own; that they have right to do with it as they please. Maybe they have but those who take that position have a false conception of the titles to property."

The secretary said every title was law-enacted and law-protected and that deprived of those laws the property involved would be at the mercy of the first strong and cunning man who desired it.

Favors Bureau of Information.

Mr. Wilson condemned the sending of strike-breakers by private employment agencies. He hoped to see created within the department of labor a bureau of information that with the aid of government employees scattered over the country, will gather the information of where men can find employment, where wages they will receive, the hours of employment, the conditions under which they toil, whether or not a trade union is recognized, and last but not least, whether or not any trade dispute exists where the employment may be had, and then condenses that information into a sheet that can be posted in every postoffice in the United States and in every other place where men congregate, so that they will have the information relative to where employment can be had and the kind of employment, and in doing so give them the information in such a way that when a man comes into a community where a strike exists for the purpose of taking the place of those struck, he does so with his eyes open and cannot make the plea of ignorance."

Power of Organized Labor.

Speaking of the power of organized labor he said: "As I look back over my forty years of experience as a trade unionist I can see many men who never acquired prominence in the trades union movement, men who might have swayed the rod of empire, who were crushed by the wayside by the power of organized capital because they dared to protest against unjust and unfair conditions. I can see that crushing process going on here and there in our country today and if the department of labor can do anything to wipe out that crushing process, that process crushing the toilers because they dared to protest the department of labor will utilize everything in its power to prevent it."

SAFETY AT SEA CONFERENCE BEGINS SESSIONS IN LONDON

Great Interest Manifest in Proceedings—Vollurno Disaster Will Bring Reforms.

London, Nov. 12.—Fourteen great nations are represented by delegates in the International Conference on Safety at Sea, which opened its sessions here today and the intense interest manifested, in deliberations and proceedings of the conference, by the general public and the press, indicates the importance attached to this gathering. If the Titanic disaster proved a powerful agent in bringing about a general understanding between the maritime nations of the world concerning the necessity of certain laws and their enforcement to insure greater safety at sea, the recent Vollurno disaster clearly demonstrated other defects in the correction of which equally demands prompt attention and intelligent action.

It is impossible to predict with any degree of certainty how long the conference will be in session, but the general opinion seems to be that there is enough work to be done to keep the conference busy for a month. The delegation representing the United States will undoubtedly take a prominent part in the proceedings. The United States government had a large share in the activity which led to the calling of this conference and will probably take the initiative in proposing some of the important suggestions for the delegates. The conference was called for the purpose of considering general questions of safety, the efficiency of life boats, the prevention of fire, the introduction of wireless outfits on sea going vessels and other matters having a direct or indirect bearing upon the safety at sea. The necessity of having a sufficient number of lifeboats and safety appliances on board of a big ship was forcibly demonstrated by the Titanic disaster and since that catastrophe every maritime nation has passed laws and regulations requiring ships to carry a sufficient number of lifeboats. The Vollurno disaster taught a double lesson. It demonstrated the necessity of crews efficient in launching and handling life boats and the importance of having adequate appliances for the suppression of fire and crews thoroughly drilled in the use of these appliances.

Both these problems will be introduced for consideration by the American delegates who will present a series of important suggestions aiming at the solution of these problems. The United States navy department has a new device for releasing and launching life boats so as to prevent their being dashed against the sides of the ships and as the tests are said to have been extremely satisfactory it is quite probable that the adoption of a similar device upon passenger carrying ships will be recommended.

Another important recommendation to be made by the United States delegation refers to the subject of radio equipments. The delegates will suggest the general enforcement of a law requiring all passenger carrying steamships to be provided with wireless outfits capable of sending messages to a distance of at least 100 nautical miles. All steamers built to carry 25 or more passengers or having a crew of 60 men shall be considered as passenger steamers. They will also suggest that two first grade operators should be required on ships maintaining constant service and carrying 100 passengers or more. For cargo boats one first or second grade operator and one watchman is to be recommended. Other recommendations will refer to the raising of the standard of efficiency of the crews on all passenger steamships and the requirements of adequate fire-fighting appliances and the systematic drilling of the crews in the use of the appliances.

Spanholtz' start in the cotton business began when he found half a dozen seeds in a freight car. This was in 1909, and since then he has increased the size of his cotton patch annually.

IS WANTED FOR RAISING CHECK TO LARGE SUM

Arthur Morgan Makes Get-Away With Five Hundred Dollars—Had Been Working as Farm Hand Near Arcadia.

Arthur Morgan who has been working recently for various farmers in the northwest part of the country is being sought by the police on the charge of raising a check for $5 to $500. The check was signed by John Brainer and was drawn on Dunlap, Russell & Co., and was paid. Among others for whom Morgan worked was John Stanley and he contracted a board bill there which he neglected to pay.

He worked a short time for John Brainer and Tuesday Mr. Brainer settled with him giving him a check on Dunlap, Russell & Co. for five dollars, Morgan filling the check and Mr. Brainer signing it. Later in the day he appeared at the bank with a regularly drawn check and was asked for identification. He found Tim Keating who knew him to be Arthur Morgan and that enabled him to get the money.

Meanwhile John Stanley happened to meet Tim Keating who remarked to him that Morgan had five hundred dollars cash. Stanley said it must be impossible as the fellow owed him a board bill and hadn't paid it. However, he waited at the livery stable for Morgan to appear intending to take him home and find out how he got his board bill, but the young man failed to come to the barn.

On his return home Stanley went to Mr. Brainer's home and told what had happened as far as he knew and Mr. Brainer at once said he had given a check for only five dollars. Wednesday morning they came to Jacksonville but there was nothing to be seen or heard of Morgan, who probably has placed a long distance between himself and this city by this time.

The bank stated that the check was in perfect shape and gave no indication whatever of having been tampered with and the probability is that Morgan either made it five hundred at the time or left the five and figure so that the check could easily be made to read the larger sum.

Chief of Police Davis has taken the matter up in an active way and is seeking to locate Morgan.

Arthur Morgan is described as a man about forty years of age, six feet high and weighing 175 pounds. He is medium of build and dark complexion.

DR. THOMPSON TALKED ON "PROBLEM OF THE CITY"

Interesting Lecture Given at Congregational Church Last Night. Talks to Woman's College Students.

Dr. Edward Thompson gave his last lecture Wednesday evening at the Congregational church, before a fair-sized audience on the subject "The Problem of the City." It is a rare privilege to have a speaker of such international reputation as Dr. Thompson in the city and his lectures should have been more largely attended, those failing to hear him missing a rare treat. Last night at the Congregational church he talked on "The Problem of the City."

In part he said: "The Sunday League of America has a big job. It desires to make all the United States of America like Canada, Australia and Scotland in Sunday observance. We are ahead of the Scotch in temperance sentiment, in average intelligence, in ideas of government—why let them get ahead of us in anything? Ought we not to illustrate the highest, purest type of Christian civilization that the world has ever known? That is what we are working for."

Dr. X. in a press in the Vatican to a body of American callers, said: "We expect you, in that great land of yours, to solve, for all the world, the greatest problems of the 20th century." The greatest thing before us today is to call a halt to the tendencies to the work day and holiday Sunday and say it must be a quiet and thoughtful day. Sunday is the great thought day, the day of golden opportunity and every one should have it or at least half of it. This is in the interest of his intelligence and manhood.

When our fathers established this republic, they said, "All the republics of past history have been failures, we want ours to be a success. We will set aside in the calendar of every week one day free from toil and frivolity and dedicated to noblest thought." The liberty to do as you please and make Sunday a day of drunkenness and lust, the day of greatest temptation and frivolity is not guaranteed by our constitution. Our constitution says, "Sunday excepted for our courts, for commercial paper, for legal processes." Don't say "I wish for success." That is cheap and cowardly. What we want you to say is "It must be done and I will start at once to help to win and will keep it in mind and talk and pray and practice myself."

Addresses Students.

Dr. Thompson addressed the students of the Woman's College Wednesday morning at their usual chapel exercises. He gave a most inspiring talk on women in the Hall of Fame, naming five, Mary Lyon, Emma Willard, Marie Mitchell, Harriett Beecher Stowe and Frances Willard. Dr. Thompson left a profound impression upon the minds of the young ladies, of the value of living for high ideals.

MacNaughton's Comment.

Calumet, Mich., Nov. 12.—Of Secretary Wilson's Seattle speech before the American Federation of Labor, condemning the policy of the copper mining companies of Michigan in the copper strike, General Manager James MacNaughton of the Calumet and Hecla Mining company tonight said:

"Mr. Wilson, through representatives of his department made a thorough investigation of strike conditions. Upward of twenty of the mining companies answered a series of 110 questions each."

"Mr. Wilson's criticism of the mines of this district is based on the reply of one company to two of these questions, those pertaining to capitalization and to dividends. Evidently Mr. Wilson could find no fault with the other questions asked the Calumet and Hecla mining or the question asked each of the other companies. He selected for the purpose of his confidential advance statement, answers to two questions which had no bearing whatever on the controversy. Such political buncombe is worthy only of a peanut politician."

A man of Mr. Wilson's position should be above it.

"It would naturally be presumed that a cabinet member would be unbiased. In view of Mr. Wilson's statement that he proposes to make public the 'enormous profits' of the copper companies (all of which by the way has always been public property), it will be interesting to note whether he makes public all of the other information collected by his department on the subject of the strike. It is at least significant that the one company selected by Wilson as the basis of his condemnation of all copper companies in Michigan is the only company that is running full handed at the present time."

"Mr. Wilson's statement that the mining companies refused to meet committees of workmen is absolutely false. Mr. Wilson offered his services as mediator in the strike in Michigan and such services were declined. The good judgment displayed by the mining companies in declining his offer must now be apparent to the public."

RETURNS VERDICT OF SUICIDE.

Coroner's Jury Finds That Man Found Dead in Springfield Killed Self.

That August Poeck, whose lifeless body was found on the Chicago & Alton tracks near Woodside, a suburb of Springfield, came to his death from suicide was the verdict of a coroner's jury that heard evidence in the case. The note found on his body stating that such were his intentions, and the statements of friends in Ottumwa, Ia., that he had made similar threats before, determined the jury in its verdict.

Relatives at Ottumwa stated that the dead man was insane, that he was divorced from his wife several years ago, adjudged insane and confined in an asylum. He escaped and came to this city, where he secured employment at a dairy and also worked at the C. P. & St. L. car shops here. While in this city he boarded with H. L. Cheney on East Court street.

While the coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide many who have followed the case closely are of the opinion that he was murdered, although he may have threatened to take his life. Total absence of blood on his clothing and the holes in his head are some of the things that lead to this belief. The remains of the dead man were sent to Ottumwa for interment.

Find Death of John Pieper by Railroad Accidental.

The jury empanelled to inquire into the death of John Pieper, who was killed by a Wabash passenger train, gave in a verdict Wednesday afternoon that death was "purely accidental." The jurors were Peter Tilton, foreman; Fred Hutchison, H. E. Woodman, W. Guthrie and W. S. Camp, clerk.

Among the witnesses examined were Harry L. Smith, and members of the train crew, John Rodems, engineer; Clyde Arnold, fireman; J. T. Oliver, brakeman; Charles P. Malley, conductor. Engineer Rodems was the chief witness. He said that the man was walking on the Mauvater bridge a mile and a half east of the city and that he was trying to cross the bridge when struck. When the pilot of the engine hit him he was nearly over the bridge. The train was so close upon him that it would have been impossible to stop.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE IN SESSION AT TORONTO

NINETEENTH ANNUAL MEETING NOW ATTRACTING NOTICE.

Clinton R. Woodruff, Secretary of League Reviews Various Plans of Municipal Administration—Points to Need for Control of Public Utilities.

Toronto, November 12.—A factor in recent municipal advance, said Clinton Rogers Woodruff of Philadelphia tonight in his annual review before the National Municipal league, is the realization that municipal administration is a business for permanent experts and not for politicians, placed in temporary control of our cities by the fortunes of the ballot. Mr. Woodruff is secretary of the league, which began here tonight its nineteenth annual meeting.

The "city manager" plan, he said, is an evolution of the Galveston idea. It represents "a complex and more effective unification of the administrative work of the municipality, it makes possible the retention of a permanent professional expert as therefore the opening of a new career of the greatest possible possibilities. Moreover the city manager plan leaves the electors free to choose candidates on the basis of their representative character unfettered by any implied requirements as to executive experience or capacity to earn a large salary. It therefore involves an abandonment of the unsound plan of attempting to select executive experts by popular elections for short terms. In short it constitutes a natural and effective solution of governmental forms under American conditions."

Public Utility Control. Regarding public control of public utilities, Mr. Woodruff said: "The question is not: Shall there be public control or none, but as to the form of that control. It is now generally conceded that public utilities, and chief among these are municipal utilities, must be carefully supervised and controlled so that the rights of the communities and of the users may be adequately protected. That is municipal advance."

Mr. Woodruff spoke of recent experiments in selling municipal bonds "over the counter" as evidence of increased interest by citizens in municipal management. "This is municipal advance," he said, "when the citizen directly invests their savings in the public works and improvements of their city, and formally authorizes the expenditures."

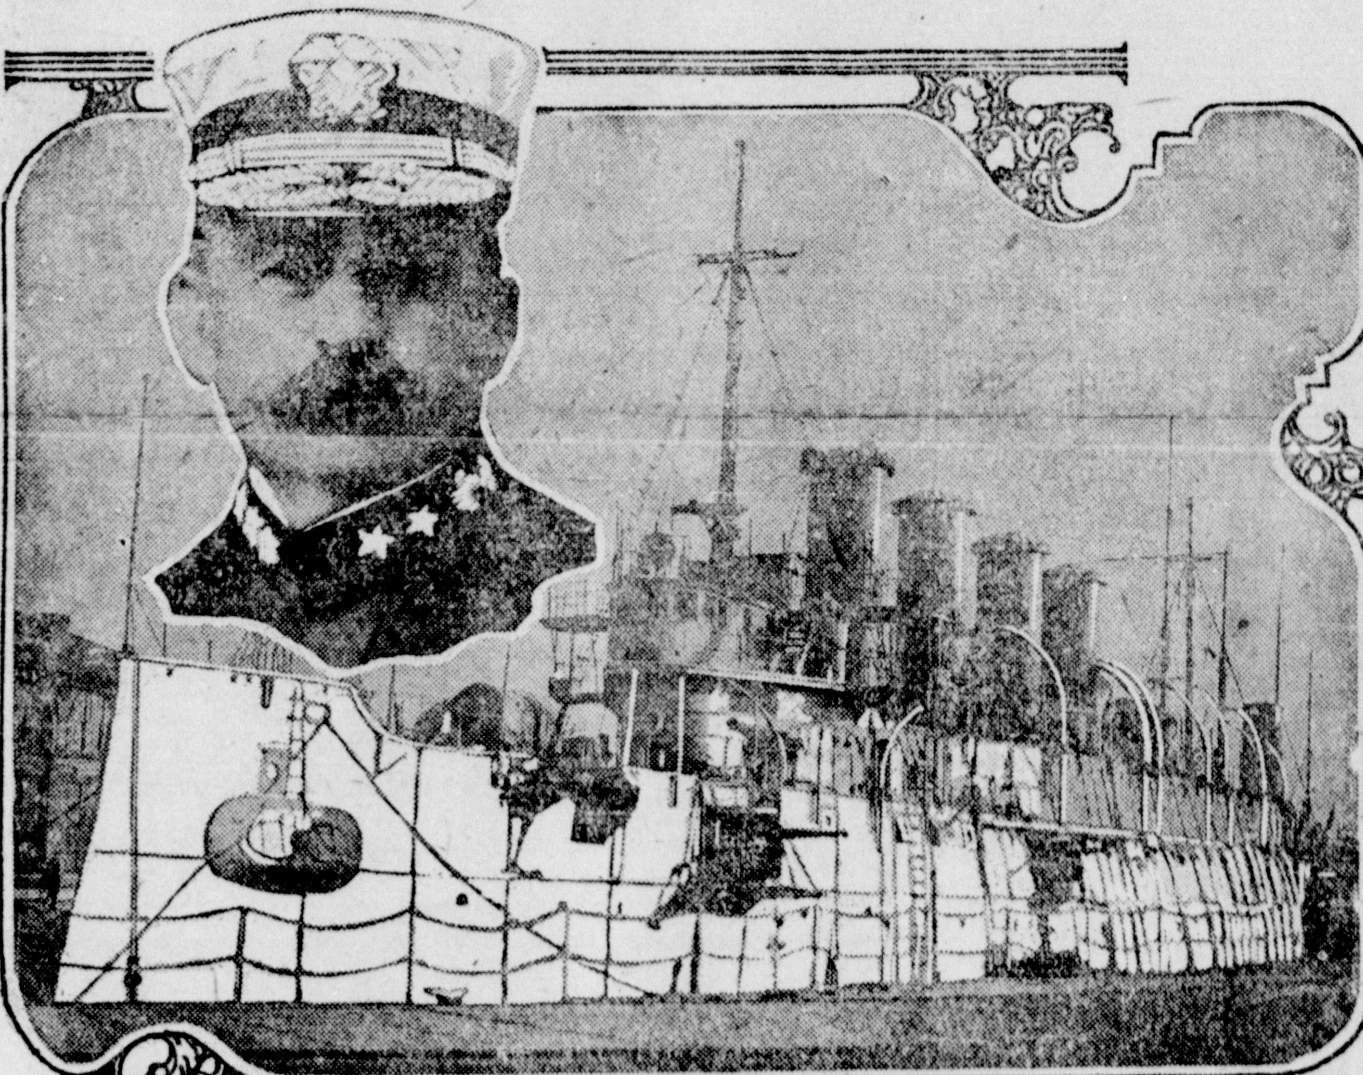

The commission form of city government, he continued although first tried only thirteen years ago, has lost its novelty as an experiment, and the core idea has gained in popularity with remarkable rapidity.

"Non-partisanship," he asserted, "has been the aim of the newer form of government. It has been promoted by ignoring party designations on the ballot and eliminating the party ticket and the machinery by which it has been brought forth."

Municipal Home Rule. "Municipal home rule has been making great gains within the past few years. These three movements—non-partisanship, the direct election of federal senators and municipal home rule, all represent municipal advance of the most effective kind, in that they place municipal affairs clearly on their own basis, freed from outside and alien influences and give to our cities opportunity fully to develop their resources and along democratic lines."

Mr. Woodruff pointed out the difficulties of introducing efficient management into city business. "The 'bread and butter brigade,'" he said,

Commander of United States Fleet In Mexican Waters And Famous Ship That Will Be Sent to Aid Him.

Rear Admiral Fletcher is in command of the United States fleet now in Mexican waters. His squadron is rapidly increasing in size. One of the vessels which is being prepared to send to him at Vera Cruz is the famous sea warrior, the U. S. S. Brooklyn. The Brooklyn in her day was the fastest ship in the navy. She was Admiral Schley's flagship at the battle of Santiago. She is now at the League Island navy yard at Philadelphia, where she was recently equipped with a new battery of thirteen inch guns.

"has been at one and the same the greatest bulwark of the modern political organization and the greatest obstacle in the way of introduction of modern efficiency methods. The civil service movement is steadily making inroads on the 'bread and butter brigade' and instilling new ideas of loyalty and service into the minds and conduct of public employees."

Approves Education for Experts. The speaker advocated the extension of courses to educate experts for city government. "We are training men today for all services," he said, "but that of the public."

He admitted that at present one of the most unpopular things a new administration could do was to call to its aid experts from without the borders of the city. "This was not the case in the well-governed cities of Europe, where capable, trained experts are advertised for and brought into city service regardless of where they come from."

Another municipal advance he pointed out was the changing ideas of social service. Until recently this has been confined in popular estimate to what is known as charity, in the sense of almsgiving. In the same way civic work was practically confined to the effort to "drive the rascals out" of office. "Today the emphasis is more and more placed upon the improvements of conditions so that the need of relief may be constantly diminished. The change is from an attempt to cure to an attempt to prevent. The purpose is to set higher standards and to adopt policies that will fundamentally improve the qualities of the race."

"There is natural rejoicing," Mr. Woodruff said in conclusion, "at the overwhelming victory of the Fusion forces in New York and the reelection of Mayor Baker of Cleveland; and there is some depression over the results in Philadelphia and Cincinnati, but these must all be regarded as incidents in a great campaign."

OFFICIALS MUST REPORT ON ALLEGED ENTRANCE OF ZELAYA

Former President of Nicaragua is Said to Have Made Entrance Into United States Under Assumed Name.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Immigration officials at Ellis Island, New York, were asked today to make a report on the alleged entrance into the United States under an assumed name of former President Zelaya, Nicaragua. F. H. Larned, acting commissioner general, ordered the report when he read press reports that the deposed ruler of the Central American country was in the country.

The matter was a subject of considerable talk among the diplomatic corps. What Zelaya's plans are, they said, they could not guess. It was recalled that the Taft administration was anxious to secure the punishment of Zelaya against whom indictments are said to be pending now in Nicaragua for his alleged execution without a fair trial of two young Americans, Cannon and Groce, accused to have fought with revolutionists against him. While Zelaya could not be held and tried in this country for a crime committed in Nicaragua it was pointed out that if Nicaragua should ask for his extradition this country doubtless would honor such request.

Declare War on Colds.

A crusade of education which aims "that common colds may become uncommon within the next generation" has begun by prominent New York physicians. Here is a list of the "don'ts" which the doctors say will prevent the annual visitation of the cold:

"Don't sleep in hot rooms."
"Don't avoid the fresh air."
"Don't stuff yourself at meal time. Overeating reduces your resistance."

Boils Are a Bad Indication

No Time Should be Lost in Purifying Your Blood.

At the first appearance of pimples and boils the blood should be given a good searching internal bath with S. S. S. the greatest blood purifier known to man.

This remarkable remedy has the peculiar action of soaking through the intestines directly into the blood. In a few minutes its influence is at work in every artery, vein and tiny capillary. Every membrane, every organ of the body, every emunctory becomes in effect a filter to strain the blood of impurities. The stimulating properties of S. S. S. compel the skin, liver, bowels, kidneys, bladder, to all work to the one end of casting out every irritating, every pain-inflicting atom of poison; it dislodges by irrigation all accumulations in the joints, causes acid secretions to dissolve, renders them neutral and scatters those peculiar formations in the skin that cause boils and other skin eruptions.

And best of all, this remarkable remedy is welcome to the weakest stomach. In a very brief time S. S. S. has the reconstructive process so under control that all eruptive places heal.

You can get S. S. S. at any drug store. Beware of any effort to sell you something claimed to be "just as good." If yours is a peculiar case and you desire expert advice, write to the Swift Specific Co., 212 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

SOME OFF-SIDE CHUTES.

Eddie Graney, a native son, a schoolmate of Pompadour Jim Corbett and sometimes a referee of prize ring contests in San Francisco, has "written" a story for one of the coast city papers in which he gives his views upon the state of the roped arena. Speaking of the heavies, he says Corbett and Peter Jackson were the greatest men the ring ever produced. People acquainted with Graney would expect him to place his sand-lot chum in front; but Eddie is wise, and when he induced Bill McNaughton or Van Loam to write, "his" story for the 'Frisco newspaper he was conscious of the fact that ring followers would not take him seriously when he proclaimed Corbett great. James J. Corbett, in the strict sense of the game, never approached greatness. He fought Peter Jackson sixty rounds to a draw, it is true; but how? The big black East Indian when he met Corbett was "off his feed" and off badly. While training he sprained his right ankle and sprung the tendons of his right leg, and throughout his encounter with the bank clerk he was forced to pivot upon the toes of his left foot and well earned a draw. When he recovered and wanted to renew hostilities Corbett sidestepped him and backed water in every attempt Peter made to get him back into the ring. Corbett was handed a decision over John L. Sullivan at New Orleans when the "Boston Strong Boy" was past his prime and at a time when he entered the ring "chock full" of Carondelet street whiskey and gumbo molasses. He also was handed a decision over Charley Mitchell in Florida when the latter weighed in at 142 pounds to Corbett's 186. Bob Fitzsimmons solar-plexed him out of commission at Carson City, Nev., and Tom Sharkey and Jeffries afterwards finished the job and sent him to the scrap heap. Corbett was a splendid fancy boxer—and that was all. Peter Jackson was great, and had provided created him white he would have been champion of his day. His color, in his time, kept him back, the promoters preferring white talent. Peter Jackson was great in a prize ring sense, and with his greatness he was one of the finest gentlemen, black or white, who ever responded to a referee's call of "time." In the lightweight division Graney places Jack McAuliffe in front, and in this he will not be disputed. But when he says Jimmy Britt was next best, he becomes ridiculous. Where does he place Arthur Chambers, Billy Edwards, Harry Gilmore, Sr., the Daly brothers of St. Louis, Harry Sharpe, the printer-soldier, who fought the longest lightweight battle on record near Salem in this state? In what class does he place Johnny Clark, Eddie Curry, Cal McCarthy, Joe Gans, Battling Nelson, Billy Rothwell (Young Corbett), Terry McGovern, Patsy Sheppard, Jim Conney, Young Gifford and a thousand and one others who were Britt's superiors in all angles of the game. In the welter-weight he places Jack Dempsey alone, although the Nonpareil fought but one battle in that division for the championship and won at 139 pounds, 3 pounds below the scale. Bob Fitzsimmons he places by himself in the middleweight class, notwithstanding Old Preckles was a freak trained from a heavy down to a middle. He does not mention Jack Demsey, Jim Hall, Dan Creedon, Australia Folsy, Chubby Stanley Ketchell, Dillon, Herbert and others. He speaks of Joe Wolcott lightly, although the Barbadoes negro took the measure of all of his opponents, and retired the champion of his time. The bantam title he tosses to George Dixon. Little Chocolate was one of the greatest little men who ever donned a glove; but his lights were dimmed when Jimmy Barry flashed upon the scene. The Chicago midge defended his title in all quarters of the globe and is now in retirement one of the few unbeaten champions. Johnny Coulton, who is now bantam champion, Graney does not mention. In the feathers he places Terry McGovern in the lead. When the "Terrible One" was a feather he was a champion; but he remained in that division only a short time, because, like Johnny Dundee, he was forced out of his class to "get on." The greatest feather of them all, until on the down grade one year ago, when Johnny Kilbane annexed the title, was Abe Attel. Abe is a native son of Jewish extraction—one of the kind when he knows he is right will step aside for no man. Abe was not overly proud of Graney as a referee, and for this reason, mayhap, Eddie ignores the nifty Little Hebrew. The Graney list of champions will need considerable revision before it will be taken seriously by the boxing fans.

The Baseball Players' union has attached a can to Heinie Zimmerman for non-payment of dues. (April 14 is a long ways off, and it is a safe prediction that the umpire baiter will pay up long before opening day. He enjoys being benched by the arbiters; but a strike against his presence upon the field by his mates will be a different story with the obstreperous one.

Yale has grabbed Jim Ten Eyck, the veteran rowing coach, from Syracuse. The sons of EM have for a number of years been trained under an English system by an English coach and they have been regularly defeated on the Connecticut Thames by Harvard. British ideas will be abolished and the American stroke taught by the veteran Ten Eyck. The banks of old Mill river, Yale's training stream, will welcome the change, and old glory at the mast head on Bell dock will unfurl with more cheer when that other veteran, the keeper of the East Haven toll, Charley Berry, hoists it aloft.

Chicago is becoming so well behaved that the police are now prohibiting pugs training for ring engagements in other states. White Hopes Willard and Pelkey attempted to box three friendly rounds in preparation for contests in which they were to take part in widely separated cities next week when the

Uncle Sam's Confidential Agent In Mexico, and Refugees Seeking Protection.

Dr. William Bayard Hale, confidential representative of President Wilson in Mexico, has been conferring in Hermosillo with General Carranza, the chief revolutionary leader, with a view to giving Carranza support if he will co-operate with the United States in ousting Huerta. The threatening conditions have alarmed the public throughout many sections of Mexico to such an extent that dwellers in small towns are flocking to the larger cities. In addition to Dr. Hale, the illustration shows a group of refugees ready to take a train to Mexico City to find shelter under the guns of the federal troops.

WILL ATTEMPT TO DEVISE UNIFORM STYLE OF CONTRACT

President Sexton Appoints Committees for Various Duties—List of Players' Requests is Read to Convention.

Columbus, O., Nov. 12.—Five committees were announced by President Sexton of the National association of Professional Baseball leagues during today's session. One committee was assigned the problem of devising a way whereby a uniform style of contract can be prepared for players of the five different classes of leagues affiliated with the organization. The greatest obstacle now apparent, baseball men say, is the possible insertion of a clause requiring a player to be given notice of release ten days prior to the time the release can be made effective. It is understood that class A leagues are willing to work under this plan but those in classes B, C, and D do not favor the idea of having to carry and pay a useless player for ten days.

President Kearney of the Three Eye, started a movement for a reform in the system of drafting players and was supported in a fight against the practices of major league clubs in claiming a large number of players and then making cancellations of the drafts. It was voted that there shall be no such procedure by national association clubs. Secretary Farrell read to the convention today the lists of requests from the Players' Fraternity. No action was taken it being left to the committee on contracts to formulate a course of procedure to be submitted to the convention for ratification.

It is a dark colored granular meal, made from meat residues, and it supplies the protein and phosphates necessary for compounding a balanced ration in most economical and palatable form.

It contains phosphates in proper proportion to insure strength of bone and frame work. In the corn belt bone development is a matter of serious consideration.

It is not a substitute for corn, but a small quantity fed in connection with corn or other grains gives a balanced ration.

It is the most economical source of digestible protein known, containing twice as much protein as oil-meal and five times as much as middlings, shorts, shipstuf, or alfalfa meal.

TANKAGE is recommended by all leading experiment stations. It is packed in one-hundred-pound burlap sacks, plainly marked "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD." Analysis as above. It is the ideal feed to balance rations.

WHAT "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD" TANKAGE DOES.

It develops bone and muscle in young pigs and makes them grow. It matures a hog for market in two and three months quicker than corn alone, thereby saving one-third of the feed bill, one-third of the labor, one-third of the risk, increasing profits one-third.

It grows better proportioned hogs, more meat, and more fat, hence market-topper hogs. "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD" Tankage fed hogs ship well with small shrink. While in nowise a medicine, it so fortifies and strengthens the system against attacks of disease germs that "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD" TANKAGE fed hogs are universally healthy. Manufactured by the

NEW ELECTRIC LAMP WILL BE OFFERED ON MARKET

Nitrogen Filled Incandescent Lamp Saves Half the Cost of Current—To Be Made in Large Candle-Power Units For Streets, Factories and Wherever Large Units are Necessary.

Announcement was made a few weeks ago that a new incandescent lamp has been perfected which consumes only half a watt of electrical energy against a full watt required by the best lamps of today. The new nitrogen lamp is really a tungsten lamp, filled with nitrogen gas, and high efficiency.

For many years scientist and inventors have been trying to increase the efficiency of the incandescent lamp. The most noteworthy achievement was the perfection of the tungsten filament lamp which gives three times as much light, or a better quality, as the old carbon filament lamp perfected by Edison. This itself was a wonderful improvement, but the invention of the nitrogen filled lamp almost equals it so far as high candle-power lamps are concerned.

The First Carbon Lamp.
New lamps are usually the result of long and tedious study. Edison worked for years to produce the first carbon lamp and sent men scouring the earth for the bamboo to be used in the filament. It was years before the squirted carbon filament was found. The carbon lamp remained practically the same for nearly twenty years previous to the discovery of the tungsten lamp. The new nitrogen lamp was not the result of accident. Long and laborious research work in the laboratories of the General Electric Company was necessary before a hint of the new lamp was found. It was to eliminate the blackening of the tungsten lamp during its lifetime that the new lamp was discovered. Owing to the chemical action of a tiny bit of water vapor in the vacuum of globe acting upon the metal filament, the minute particles of the tungsten are carried from the filament to the globe, blackening the lamp. It was to remedy this that the experimenter hit upon the new lamp.

New Lamp Features.
Besides their high efficiency of but half a watt per candle power there are certain features of the new lamps which may prove of distinct advantage.

1. Color of the light—The temperature of the filament being several hundred degrees higher than that of ordinary tungsten lamps causes the light to be of a very much whiter color, so that it comes closer to daylight than any other form of artificial illuminant except the direct current arc and the special Moore tube containing carbon dioxide. The color is almost exactly like that which can be obtained for a few minutes by running an ordinary tungsten lamp at double its rated voltage.

By the use of special color screens it is possible to obtain a true daylight color at an efficiency obtained with the proper screens is ten to twelve watts per candle.

2. High intrinsic brilliancy—The intrinsic brilliancy is five to ten times that of the filament of the ordinary tungsten lamp. This renders it especially suitable for projection work such as headlights and stereopticons. Although the intrinsic brilliancy is less than that of the arc, the difference is often more than offset by the fact that the wandering of the crater of the arc prevents as sharp focusing as is possible when the source of light is fixed in position.

WELL KNOWN ARMY OFFICER TO RETIRE
Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—Col. Alexander O. Brodie, one of the best known officers of the army, will be placed on the retired list tomorrow on account of age. Until recently Col. Brodie filled the post of adjutant general of the Western department, with headquarters at San Francisco. His career in the army has been a most distinguished and eventful one. After his graduation from West Point in 1879 he was assigned to the First Cavalry, with which regiment he remained until he resigned from the army in 1877. During these seven years he was an active participant in the Indian wars in the west.

After his resignation Col. Brodie engaged in civil engineering, mining and cattle raising until 1898, when he joined Col. Roosevelt's Rough Riders. He was lieutenant colonel of that organization and took part in its service in Cuba until he was seriously wounded at Las Guasimas and returned to New York. He was governor of Arizona from 1902 to 1905, and was then appointed a major in the regular army. He spent two years in the Philippines and four years as adjutant general of the department of Dakota. In 1911 he was transferred to San Francisco as adjutant general of the western division.

MOISTURE IN CORN SHOWS HEAVY PERCENT

Morgan County Farmers Interested in Laboratory Tests.

Corn shucking is well under way and for several days the experts from the United States Grain Standardization office in Decatur have been scouring Macon county securing samples of the new crop as to moisture content. The Decatur Review tells of the tests made: About 35 crib samples were collected and tested, fifteen elevator samples, and as many car samples. The crib samples were all gathered in Macon county and most of them were taken from wagons or their way to the crib. The elevator and car samples were sent in to the local office from a half dozen counties in this section of Illinois.

Moisture Content.
The moisture content shown by the samples tested has been tabulated as follows:
Crib samples. Freshly shucked corn:

Average, 20 per cent.
Lowest, 19.5 per cent.
Highest, 27.8 per cent.
Elevator receipts:
Average, 21.0 per cent.
Lowest, 16.5 per cent.
Highest, 23.4 per cent.
Car samples:
Average, 20.8 per cent.
Lowest, 19.3 per cent.
Highest, 22.1 per cent.

Much Interest.
A good many grain dealers in this section of Illinois have been awaiting these early moisture tests with quite as much eagerness as most people wait for election returns. A number of dealers called at the local laboratory yesterday to find out about them and many others called up by telephone.

Clark A. Russell, the manager of the Decatur laboratory, states that corn is showing up as to moisture much as it did last year. Last year the average for crib corn was 22.93 per cent, while this year it is even 23 per cent, a difference of only .07 of 1 per cent.

New Grade No. 5.
The better showing made by the car and elevator samples than that by the crib samples is accounted for in the fact that only the driest of the corn is going to the elevators. The highest car sample is nearly 1 per cent. less in moisture than the average crib sample. The average moisture content of both the elevator and car samples would grade this corn No. 5 according to the new government grades and No. 4 under the old system of grading which is still in force. Notwithstanding the high moisture content and low grade of this corn much of it is being shipped out by the country elevators, some of it going to the southern markets.

Shucking Too Early.
Mr. Russell expresses the opinion that most corn shucking starts too early. Indeed, within the last few years corn shucking has advanced until it is at least thirty days earlier than it used to be. Formerly farmers expected to have their corn shucking finished by Christmas, although there were always a few laggards who were a little later. Now it is expected that the bulk of the corn be shucked by Thanksgiving and that the shucking be entirely finished by December 10. Mr. Russell believes that the old schedule was the better, or at least that it made better corn. Of course whether corn on the stalk will improve in the next four or five weeks depends upon the season. If the season should be wet and the corn get down it will deteriorate instead of improve but taking one season with another corn would be in much better condition if it could stay out doors a little longer.

No Shucking Returns.
The government experts did not attempt to gather any data as to corn yields. The shucking is not far enough along for that. The condition of the corn is generally excellent. There is very little rot corn.

RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION
It's Me for Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative. No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar coated, olive colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now—and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Co., Columbus, Ohio.—Adv.

"Pape's Diapiesin" Ends Indigestion, Gas, Dyspepsia and Stomach Misery in Five Minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, indigestion, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapiesin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why they relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs of indigestion in five minutes. This city will have many "Pape's Diapiesin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparator, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

ALL ABOUT HOG CHOLERA

Big Loss in Livingston County—Can be prevented to a Large Extent and How.

Hog cholera is the great drawback in the hog business in this section. Roy C. Bishop, the soil and crop adviser of Livingston county, advises the farmers in the following manner how to prevent this disease as much as possible. If these rules were followed there is no doubt but what a great loss could be prevented. It seems as though this advice is good throughout Illinois as well as Livingston county.

Cholera Widespread.

The hog cholera disease is widespread and fatal in Livingston county this fall and it has become a serious menace to the hog raising industry. Entire droves have been and are being wiped out by this disease in practically every part of the county. Many droves are being shipped out. So that the county is being rapidly depleted of its hogs. This deplorable condition could have been largely avoided by careful quarantine, timely preventive methods. The co-operation of every hog raiser in the county is necessary to make these methods effective. It is not too late for this work to be started.

How Cholera is Spread.

Hog cholera is a contagious disease and is spread by means of blowing dust, running water, dogs and birds. It is carried on the shoes of persons walking through infected lots, by means of wagons, horses and all sorts of live stock which comes in contact thoroughly sterilized. Fields were hogs with infected fields or lots. Persons visiting farms where hogs are sick should not wear these shoes while in other feed lots without having them thoroughly sterilized. Fields where hogs are sick with cholera should not be visited only by the owner or a veterinarian.

Dogs Should Be Kept Away.

Dogs should be kept off of infected farms, pigeons and sparrows in such neighborhoods should be killed or driven away. Infected hogs should be kept away from all water courses. Well hogs should not have access to streams if these streams run through infected fields, neither should they be placed in pastures or lots along the public highway if cholera is prevalent in the neighborhood.

Healthy Hogs Resist It Better.

Hogs properly fed and kept in vigorous condition are most resistant to cholera. Do not feed more than the hogs will clean up good, or suddenly change from old to new corn if cholera is in the neighborhood. If cholera is in the neighborhood in case dry feeding use care to balance up their ration with tankage, bran, alfalfa hay or some protein bearing food. Clover or alfalfa pasture is good to feed on. Keep plenty of salt, charcoal and copper sulphate in the feed lot.

A Formula for a Preventive.

The following formula for a preventive medicine is good:

Lbs
Wood charcoal	.....1
Sulphur	.....1
Sodium Chloride	.....2
Sodium bicarbonate	.....2
Sodium hyposulphite	.....2
Sodium sulphate	.....2
Antimony sulphid (black antimony)	.....1

This medicine should be used simply to keep the hogs in good health. It is mixed with the feed in the proportion of a large tablespoonful to each 200 pounds live weight or hogs to be treated and should be given not often than once a day.

About Vaccinating.

As a final preventive step, if the cholera is in the neighborhood, have the hogs vaccinated with serum and virus. This method is perfectly reliable and only in infrequent cases are losses sustained after its use. Hogs properly treated with serum and virus before they become infected are rendered permanently immune from the cholera disease.

Serum Not a Cure.

Serum treatment is not a cure for hog cholera. If the serum and virus is used after cholera breaks out in a bunch, the percentage which will be saved by this method cannot be even approximated. The value of serum at this stage depends on the extent of infection.

Burn Dead Ones.

On the first appearance of cholera in a bunch of hogs the well hogs should be removed at once from the sick ones, leaving the sick hogs in the infected lot. Do not remove the sick hogs and leave the well ones in the infected field. Liberal quantities of slaked lime should be scattered over the feeding pen along paths and in the sleeping places. Feed troughs should be washed with a solution of carbolic acid. Pens and feeding places should be whitewashed and all rubbish and filth should be burned. It is dangerous to bury hogs which have died of cholera. The best plan is to burn them.

How and Where to Get Serum.

Hog cholera serum and virus may be obtained from the state board of live stock commissioners free of charge through this office or through veterinarians who have registered with the state board. The state board sends serum and virus only to persons who are familiar with its use and no one who has not had experience in the use of virus should be permitted or attempt to use this material.

Wen to Vaccinate.

Hogs should not be vaccinated unless the cholera is in the neighborhood. The veterinarians in this county should register with Dr. A. T. Peters, bacteriologist, state board of live stock commissioners, at Springfield.

If the local veterinarian is unable to obtain state serum and virus for you send in your request for serum to this office, giving number and size of pigs, number sick, dead, and the amount of cholera in the neighborhood.

Roy Ch. Bishop, Agent U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Thousands of Women

Have Been Restored to Health By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

There is no doubt about this fact. Why? during the last 30 years we have published in the newspapers of this country volumes of letters from women who have been relieved of all their suffering by the timely aid of this grand old medicine. Letters like the following, true, genuine and honest expressions of gratitude coming from grateful hearts. Surely you can believe these women.

Mrs. L. S. BRENNER, Hudson, Mich., says:—

"Sometime ago I was taken with a terrible pain in my right side, such sharp pains just like a knife sticking me. I tried hot applications but that did no good. I went to our family doctor (we were living in Fayette, Ohio, at that time) and he said it was organic inflammation. I doctored with him a while but kept getting worse. The pain was so terrible I could hardly stand on my feet. I would have that sharp pain in my right side, and a dull heavy pain the whole length of my limb. I realized that something had to be done quickly, so I looked up all of your advertisements I could find, and saw several that described my case. I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me from the first dose, and when I had taken two bottles my trouble was gone. Your medicine has done so much for me that I am willing you should publish this letter for the sake of other suffering women."—Mrs. L. S. BRENNER, Hudson, Michigan.

Mrs. L. E. BOWERS, Girard, Pa., says:—

"I take pleasure in informing you of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had a sick spell last February, and for some months after that I was not regular and had many bad feelings. I was tired all the time, had dull headaches, not much appetite, and also what the doctor called organic inflammation. Your Vegetable Compound has entirely cured me and I feel that too much cannot be said in its praise as I am now able to do my own work. You are perfectly welcome to use my testimonial for the benefit of others."—Mrs. L. E. BOWERS, R.F.D. No. 1, Girard, Pa.

Mrs. ELIZABETH GENTILCORE, Buffalo, N.Y., says:—

"I feel that I must write to you about your wonderful remedies. About ten years ago I was troubled with female weakness and was all run down. I was tired all the time and could hardly walk without feeling dizzy. I heard about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, took it, and also used the Sanative Wash. I got stronger, and have not had those dizzy spells since. I feel that I owe my health to you, and hope your remedies will help others as they have me. I tried most everything I heard of, and yours are the best medicines for women's ailments."—Mrs. ELIZABETH GENTILCORE, 26 Glor Street, Buffalo, New York.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

SWEET POTATO CROP DAMAGED.
Anna, Ill., Nov. 12.—The sweet potato growers of Union county were damaged not less than $20,000 by the freeze of October 31. Fully 500 acres of sweet potatoes were in the ground at the time. It is claimed that the freeze and heavy rains which immediately followed have ruined the crop completely. Many growers lost ten to twelve acres, which have yielded 100 bushels per acre. Growers are allowing their crop to remain in the field a total loss.

STOCK MARKET
MAKES GENERAL RISE

NOTHING IN DAY'S NEWS TO CHANGE SENTIMENT OF TRAD-ERS.

Upturn is Apparently Based Almost Entirely Upon Professional Operations—Trading is Most Active in First Part of Day and Becomes Dull Toward the Close.

(By Associated Press)

New York, Nov. 12.—Improvement in speculative sentiment both at home and abroad was reflected today in a general rise in stocks. It was difficult to trace a direct connection between the change in sentiment and the day's news, which presented no essentially fresh aspect. There was a general impression that the outlook for peaceful solution of the Mexican problem was brighter. Mexican securities moved up sharply in London and there was a substantial rise here in national railways of Mexico second preferred. An important influence was the conviction that a substantial rally was due after the protracted period of weakness through which the market has passed.

Today's upturn apparently was based almost entirely on professional operations. The better feeling abroad was of direct influence on this market on account of liberal buying for foreign account. Trading was most active in the first part of the day and it became dull after the immediate requirements of the shorts had been met. The market thereafter maintained its firm tone well in spite of a few weak spots. New Haven touched a new low record at 77 but rallied later.

COMPENSATION LAW IS DECLARED INVALID

Judge Creighton Says Workmen's
Act of 1911 is Unconstitutional.

The Illinois workmen's compensation act of 1911 was ruled unconstitutional by Judge James A. Creighton in the circuit court at Springfield Tuesday because the journal of the house of representatives does not show that twenty-three amendments were printed before their adoption by the house. The court explained in announcing the ruling that the supreme court's decision in the Nieberger case forced him to conform by declaring the law invalid.

"I am sorry to declare so good an act invalid," said the court, "but the supreme court's decision leaves no other course open to me."

The decision was rendered in a suit of Robert Katcher against the Chicago, Wilmington & Vermillion Coal company, in which the plaintiff is seeking to collect $10,000 damages for the death of Irwin Katcher, 19-year-old, who was crushed to death under a car in the defendant's mine at Thayer.

Should his decision be supported by the supreme court, it will render invalid many settlements under the 1911 act, a number in Sangamon county. The 1911 law has since been repealed and a new compensation act substituted by the forty-ninth general assembly last spring, but actions under the original act are none the less invalid if Judge Creighton's ruling is upheld.

Persons who have already collected damages under it may now file fresh suits under the old personal injury act and companies who agreed under its terms to make personal payments in personal injury cases may now decline to continue them. Employers may have the benefits of the three defenses denied them under the compensation law, contributory negligence, assumed risk and fellow servant's act.

The statute of limitations, which decrees that personal injury suits must be filed within two years after the hurt is incurred, and that fatal injury suits must be brought within a year after death has occurred, is the only bar to fresh suits by persons already paid. The defense in the case on trial was denied the right to use this statute, however. The court held that the plaintiff might file a new declaration under the old act, on the ground that the statute under which an action is brought is merely a means of procedure and not the basis of the suit.

A HAPPY CHILD IN JUST A FEW HOURS

When cross, constipated or if feverish give "California Syrup of Figs" then don't worry.

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it cannot cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach-ache, bad breath, indigestion, a gentle "inside cleanser" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.—Adv.

IS A PROSPEROUS SCHOOL

Pleasant Visit Made to Oakland in the North Part of the County.

Yesterday morning the writer had the pleasure of a visit with the teacher and pupils of Oakland school in the north part of the county and the time was very enjoyably spent. The school house is finely situated on a commanding rise in the ground, faces north and is well built and in good repair. It has recently been supplied with a new roof, a new fence fronts the road, a convenient, style furnishes means for getting into the school ground and an air of comfort, thrift and prosperity abounds.

About the only criticism to be offered is the lack of shade trees. At one side of the grounds, against the east fence, is a lone tree but a lot more would be a great addition and need not cost much. Trees are something with which every schoolhouse should be supplied for they are inexpensive and if there is room for them as is the case at Oakland, they are a great benefit to the place.

The interior of the building is also in good shape, a new stove furnishes heat when needed and supplied with coal, and the furniture is in good repair. Black walls surround a good part of the room and the teacher, Miss Ethel Bruner, says the directors are liberal in getting articles needed for the conduct of the school. There are a few ordinary pictures on the walls but good ones are lacking. Now that they are so cheap every schoolhouse could be supplied with portraits of the great men of our nation such as Grant, Washington, Lincoln and Sherman and others who could be mentioned for they are an education to the children. The supply of books, charts and the like is good and up to date.

The visitor was cordially received and made welcome at once and proceeded to make himself at home. The pupils were gathered into a small compass and listened to a story of travel across the water and paid close attention to what was said to them. They took an intelligent interest in what they heard and were anxious to know all they could about the strange people on the other side of the world.

We little know how many of our fellow beings live and it is pleasant to tell the story to those who like to hear it. The pupils of Oakland school are a bright lot of boys and girls and are well bred, polite and attentive and such as afford a speaker pleasure while addressing them.

The directors of the school are W. A. Bridgman, T. E. Laurie and Jas. Black.

The pupils are George Baker, Sallie Baker, Marshall Barber, Willie Black, Dorothy Bourn, Roy Black, Alma Bridgman, Glen Bridgman, Arthur Davidmeyer, Ethel Davidmeyer, Alice Laurie, James Laurie, Beulah Petefish, Edith Petefish, Iven Petefish, Blanche Phillips, Mabel Phillips, Felix Stephens, Hattie Stephens, Lolo Stephens, Junetta Stephens, Roy Wood. . . . .

C., of New York, who is the sprinter on the team; Ruris R. Templeton of the Olympic A. C., of San Francisco, who will do the hurdles, high jump, broad jump and pole vault; and Reginald Caughbey of Ukiah, Cal., who is a shotputter and weight thrower.

RUB SORE, LAME BACK STOPS BACKACHE AT ONCE

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica or maybe from a strain, and you'll get blessed relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on and out comes the pain. It is perfectly harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin.

Linger up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle from any drug store and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.—Adv.

Among the Murrayville visitors in the city Wednesday were Miss Ella Winters, Mrs. Thomas Winters, J. T. Mutch, Thomas McLamar, William Lovell, Lee Wyatt and Edward Osborne.

WOMAN'S COUNTRY CLUB HOLDS ANNIVERSARY MEETING

Orleans Organization Celebrates Founding With Program and Dinner—The President's Address.

The Woman's Country Club of Orleans held its annual open meeting and celebrated the anniversary of its founding Wednesday evening with an excellent literary program followed by an elaborate dinner. The club is an organization with a long record of usefulness with a standing high among the enterprises of the country.

The last season devoted to American literature and the coming year will be travel taking the members through various parts of the old world in a pleasing manner.

Mrs. James T. Holmes was the hostess and the spacious mansion was brilliant with lights and merry with the laughter and good cheer of the guests. The president, Mrs. Frank E. Drury was in the chair and announced the numbers on the formal program. First came an instrumental solo by Miss Blanche Cunningham well rendered and next followed the president's address.

We look forward each year with great anticipation and joy to the first full moon in November as it heralds the open meeting of the Woman's Country club—for them we have the honor and pleasure of having as our guests our husbands, fathers, sons, brothers and friends.

To you we extend our most cordial greeting and a heart-felt welcome. We hope to enjoy a social evening together and partake of the good things of life. This club was organized in 1895, so we have now reached our full years of majority and are now entitled to all the rights and privileges of the grown-up—even postponing our regular club meeting to cast our first ballot at the poles.

The aim of the Woman's Country club is to create a more wide spread study of literature, a more general habit of reading, a higher regard for education and a nobler and more unselfish spirit and helpfulness. We want to learn Charles Wagner's ideas of the simple life, to put true value on things that are worth the most to us and labor less for the unnecessary things.

First of all a home life with such simple domestic in time and strength that the portion is left for relaxation and rest. We must have time for reading and get away from the ideas some have that they have no time to waste on reading and that papers and books are luxuries to be dispensed with. We need to learn to learn undone without worrying the things we couldn't get done.

"Wall not for precious chances passed away. Weep not for golden ages on the name."

Each night I burn the records of the day.

At sunrise every soul is born again. We are social beings and need to come in contact with new elements in life if we would grow and develop. As we make the club better we shall enjoy it more and thus our interest in it will be quickened to still further improvement.

The get-together spirit, the desire for unity, the determination of individuals to organize for social benefits is the vital power which today is rejuvenating the country woman. The club spirit is everywhere, a movement of good will and friendship of community to another.

What a nice thing it would be if we could have a club of men and women for the winter months in which the whole families are members.

Have readings, songs, papers, debates, parliamentary drills, which are valuable and often amusing. All taking part from the three-year old to the grandmother. We could hold them at the different homes, serve light refreshments and have a royal good time. Can we not look forward to a renewal of the old time spirit of our forefathers who were keen and alert to advancement and learning and who were in the old time debates, the spelling school and the neighborhood, made them renowned literary societies, everyone giving a helping hand. For the men of those days seemed to have time not only to hitch up for the ladies, but to go with them and help to solve the problems of the day. We should then have the delightful privilege of having you, officer at our gatherings. But we desire to make you all the more welcome, on this annual occasion, in other words to put a whole year's greeting and cheer into our welcome.

The secretary, Mrs. Louis Hinrichsen, read her report in which she paid a fitting tribute to the life, character and unusual ability of the 14th, Mrs. Belle P. Drury setting forth her unusual literary ability as well as her genial character. Miss Julia Holmes then beautiful sang two songs after which came a parlor play, "Bridget's Investment," which convulsed the audience. Mrs. Margaret Walter ably took the character of Bridget, Mrs. James Dobyns was her mistress, Ernest Walter, Clyde Richardson and Clifford Davis took the other parts and the whole was a fine success.

The club song was sung by Miss Matilda Richardson after which a guest read an impromptu poem bringing the names of the members of the club and their guests.

Mrs. Davis and Miss Moeller then rendered an instrumental duet which concluded the formal program and then all gave themselves up to having a good time socially.

Dinner was the last number on the program and was truly a grand feast showing that the ladies who know so well how to make literary themes are equally at home when it comes to fine culinary work. It was all that could be desired. The entire evening was most happily spent by all present.

The members of the program committee were Miss Moeller, Mrs. F. E. Drury, and Miss Matilda Richardson.

The supper committee was composed of Mrs. Eva Hubert, Mrs. Lillian Scott, Mrs. Julia Little and Mrs. Bertha Welbourn.

Her maiden name was Mary Edwards and she was born and reared in this county. She married William Kelly, July 26, 1863, and he passed away April 16, 1913. They were the parents of seven children. One daughter, Lucella, is dead. Those surviving are Edward, Mrs. Joseph Fanning of Jacksonville, John, Curtis, Mrs. John Smith and Mrs. Jefferson Story of Northville. Mrs. Slack, who was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Clayton, was born in Franklin on the Clayton homestead eighty-one years ago, the room in which she was born being still a part of the homestead. Mrs. Slack was married to William A. Slack in Franklin, September 8, 1859, the ceremony being performed by "Uncle" Newton Cloud. Her husband preceded her in death eight years ago and she was also preceded in death by one son. The surviving children are Mrs. Seymour of this city and Henry Slack of Franklin.

Funeral services will be held at the Christian church in Franklin Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock in charge of Rev. Peter Kittel, assisted by Rev. Mr. Teaney, pastor of the Christian church. Interment will be made in the Franklin cemetery.

Friends wishing to view the remains may do so by calling at the residence of Mrs. Seymour on East State street before 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

TODAY IS FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF LOCAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Dinner Will be Held at Peacock Inn Tonight—John D. Schoop of Chicago to Speak.

Today marks the first anniversary of Jacksonville's Chamber of Commerce and one of the events to celebrate the occasion will be a dinner at the Peacock Inn this evening at 6:30 o'clock when John D. Schoop, of the Chicago public schools and a member of the Chicago Association of Commerce, will give an address.

For some time street cars have carried banners bearing the words, "Watch Us," and many inquiries were made as to their meaning. As expressed by the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday evening the words mean "Watching us and the Chamber of Commerce."

Just one year ago today teams of business men scoured Jacksonville over to find public spirited citizens who would join in the movement for a strong commercial organization for the city. With that kind of enthusiasm the present day Chamber of Commerce was vitalized. Since its organization the association has grown and will continue to grow with the assistance of citizens. Seventeen new members have joined the ranks to become full fledged boosters and at the dinner tonight the names of many others will be announced.

Invitations for the dinner this evening have been extended to Supt. W. A. Gore and the Woman's club, for any who wish to attend. Reservations must be made at the Chamber of Commerce office by noon today. Mr. Schoop, the principal speaker, will have for his topic, "The New Industrial Awakening." He is a man well versed in commercial problems, as well as school affairs, and will no doubt have a message well worth hearing. His address and that of local speakers will furnish an interesting program.
